

Advantages of the Riegel Mutual Credit Exchange

Here are just some of the advantages of using the Riegel Mutual Credit Exchange™ (the RMCE). This is by no means an all inclusive list, but it will provide you some of the more important basics.

- It provides another stream of income immediately, even within the current fraudulent system
- It bridges the 'money gap' between the skills/offers/talents/gifts of sellers on the one hand and the wants/needs/requirements of buyers on the other. Conventional money usually can't bridge this gap because its supply is limited or non-existent
- It helps build community
- RMCE 'money' is abundant and can never be in short supply
- RMCE 'money' can never be in oversupply and cause inflation
- It is democratic: it returns the 'money power' to the people, as Thomas Jefferson called for repeatedly
- It allocates credit democratically according to the abilities of the individual
- It eliminates usury. Its money is 'free' (i.e. interest free)
- It tends to keep wealth where it is created
- It eliminates cheating, theft and fraud (of money)
- It provides a support network
- It eliminates the problem of sellers not being paid for what they supply
- It reconciles the accounts of buyers and sellers immediately
- It promotes honesty because one can never 'run out of money'
- It discourages crime because anyone can 'create their own money' as needed according to their desire and own personal potential
- It levels the playing field: everyone starts from zero and those who deliver real value to others are the ones who get 'rich', not those who deliver nothing but acquire their wealth by manipulating the currency

- It gives local suppliers preference, thus
- It encourages small and medium size local businesses and private family businesses
- It eliminates the waste of transporting goods from all over because its focus is local
- It destroys the notion that the source of money is a job: the source of money is the delivery of value primarily from one Human Being or business entity (with restrictions) to another
- It streamlines transactions and eliminates wasted effort (e.g. sending accounts, debt collecting, etc.)
- It mobilizes the real wealth of a community: The knowledge and skills of its people is the real wealth of any community
- It fosters self-reliance and self esteem of all Humanity
- It fosters social justice and equality for all people
- It will, by it's very use, help preserve and restore the welfare of our Mother Earth
- The RMCE is the greatest instrument of unification common to all men/women because of the necessity to contract freely among ourselves to provide for our necessities and desires. The present system keeps money artificially scarce deliberately to keep us in bondage to the present holders of "the Money Power". The RMCE therefore has the ability to transcend almost all normal barriers to unification of the people in a common cause. This is why, more than anything else, the RMCE is needed in these unsettling times we find ourselves in.
- And many, many more...
